

Heat sources

Classify the type of heat sources, and give examples of each.

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners and a thin blue border, intended for writing the classification and examples for the campfire heat source.

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners and a thin blue border, intended for writing the classification and examples for the electrical plug heat source.

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners and a thin blue border, intended for writing the classification and examples for the hands rubbing heat source.

Heat conductors and insulators

Circle the items that conduct heat.

