• About Us

Since its establishment in 2018, Dar Ghad Al Ajyal for Publishing & Distributing has built a solid reputation as one of the leading houses in developing and publishing educational and knowledge-based curricula. We are committed to providing high-quality, continuously updated content that keeps pace with modern developments and empowers educational institutions in their mission to build a conscious, creative generation capable of meeting future challenges.

We believe that education is the true foundation for societal advancement. Guided by this belief, we strive to provide comprehensive educational curricula, including advanced school textbooks, digital tools, and interactive platforms, ensuring a rich learning experience for students and greater effectiveness for teachers.

• Our Vision

To become the first choice for educational institutions in the Arab world in curriculum development and knowledge dissemination, through innovative educational solutions that combine tradition with modernity, and nurture a generation with advanced scientific thinking and strong ethical values.

• Our Mission

To deliver pioneering educational curricula that contribute to building a comprehensive learning ecosystem, enhance the student's experience, and meet the aspirations of educational institutions through:

- Commitment to the highest international quality standards.
- Strengthening effective educational partnerships.
- Harnessing the latest digital learning technologies.
- Ensuring sustainability and excellence in everything we offer.

• Our Curricula

Dar Ghad Al Ajyal has developed fully integrated educational series in Arabic, English, and French, designed to develop students' skills from kindergarten through primary education. These series are distinguished by:

- Official approval from the Ministries of Education and registration with national libraries.
- A foundation in modern academic principles and innovative teaching methods.
- Support for active learning and critical thinking through classroom projects and activities.
- A gradual, structured design that considers individual differences among learners.
- Interactive digital tools that enrich self-learning and blended learning.

• Our Digital Platform

In line with our vision to embrace digital transformation, we launched a comprehensive e-learning platform offering interactive curricula in Arabic and English, supported by additional resources for teachers and parents.

The platform aims to make education accessible to all through modern approaches, providing free digital content that ensures equal opportunities to access knowledge.

E-learning platform

The platform's launch stems from the founders' vision to keep pace with societal developments and provide the best we can, using modern scientific technologies. This ensures students' right to education and ensures the provision of free educational e-content for our students.
